College Success for youth in foster care:
What does the current landscape look like and why does it matter?

Background Data – K-12 Statistics

National and multi-state studies indicate great disparity in educational outcomes for foster youth as compared to the general population

- Over 50% of foster youth change schools when entering care
- 1/3 of foster youth have experienced 5+ school changes
- Foster youth are absent from school 2x as often as peers
- Foster youth are less likely to graduate High School
- Foster youth experience higher suspension and expulsion rates

Discrepancy in Higher Education Outcomes for Foster Youth

- Over 70% of foster youth express a desire to attend college
- Only 20% of foster youth ever enroll in college compared to 60% of non-foster youth
- The majority of foster youth who enroll in college do not complete their degree
- Less than 10% of former foster youth obtain a bachelor's degree, compared with 24% of the general population

Why Higher Education Matters for Youth in Foster Care

- A four-year postsecondary degree = an average increase of $481,000 over the course of one's work life
- Any college attendance increases lifetime earnings by an average of $129,000
- Each additional year of education provides financial and non-financial benefits to youth and society
- Youth in foster care who have completed a post-secondary degree display greater gains in adult life circumstances than the general foster care population

What can we do to improve college access and success?

COLLEGE APPLICATION TIMELINE

FOR PENNSYLVANIA YOUTH WHO HAVE EXPERIENCED THE FOSTER CARE SYSTEM

FALL OF JUNIOR YEAR

SEARCH FOR CAMPUS-BASED SUPPORT PROGRAMS

Many colleges and universities have campus support programs for students who have experienced foster care. These programs can offer help with things like admissions and financial aid applications, tuition waivers, college tours, community support services, counseling and advising, school supplies, workshops, housing, food, tutoring, or connections with other students in foster care. A directory of campus programs in Pennsylvania is available here.

In Pennsylvania, even schools without campus support programs have a Point of Contact for Foster Youth. View the directory here.

CONSIDER TAKING THE PSAT

The Preliminary SAT (PSAT) is a chance to practice and prepare for the SAT or ACT. Registration for the PSAT is through high schools. It is not required and does not count towards college admissions applications.

SPRING OF JUNIOR YEAR

MAKE A LIST OF COLLEGES

It may be a good idea to consider 3 to 5 schools, including at least one "reach" school and at least one school where there's a high chance of acceptance. Factors to keep in mind are where existing support systems are, the type of school (community, public, trade, or private), cost of the school, financial aid, size and location of the school, available majors/studies, campus-based support programs, what transportation is like there, or what types of support/resources are available.

CONSIDER TAKING THE SAT OR ACT

Colleges and universities may require the SAT or ACT standardized exam. Youth in foster care are eligible for SAT and ACT Fee Waivers, which include registration fees, application fees at participating colleges, study guides, and more. Counselors, social workers, or caseworkers can be contacted about the fee waiver. More information can also be found online.

SUMMER BEFORE SENIOR YEAR

SEARCH FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

Search online for scholarships from local and national organizations. Consider searching for scholarships specific to major, specific to any extracurricular interests, or specific to any identities. There is some national information on scholarships for foster youth here and here, and a Pennsylvania-specific guide here.

VISIT COLLEGES

Sign-ups for college admissions visits can be made through the campus-based support programs for foster youth or by calling the admissions office. Talk with your caseworker about transportation.

TALK WITH CASEWORKER

Caseworkers may assist in obtaining information about housing (consider whether housing will be provided by the foster care agency or what dormitory living will look like), gathering any necessary paperwork or documentation from the agency, and travel arrangements.

WRITE COLLEGE ESSAYS

Summer is a good time to begin college application essays, brainstorming or preparing scholarship application essays, and thinking about letters of recommendation.

Students can also create a Common App account to streamline applications to multiple colleges.

FALL OF SENIOR YEAR

OCT 1: FINANCIAL AID APPLICATIONS OPEN

Documentation can be received from the child welfare agency regarding foster care status via a court order or placement letter. Financial aid applications to apply to include:

- FAFSA
- Supplemental Financial Aid Applications for each college
- Collegeboard College Scholarship Services (CSS) Profile

NOV 1-15: EARLY DECISION APPLICATIONS DUE

For early-decision college applications, acceptance results are typically given by mid-December. These application deadlines range from early to mid-November.

SPRING OF SENIOR YEAR

JAN: COLLEGE AND FINANCIAL AID APPLICATIONS DUE

College application deadlines vary per college, though common due dates are Jan. 1, Jan. 5, and Jan 15. Many scholarship applications are due between January and April.

APR: APPLY FOR THE CHAFEE EDUCATIONAL AND TRAINING VOUCHER (ETV)

The Chafee ETV program provides vouchers of up to $5,000/year for youth in foster care attending higher education. Funds may be used for tuition, dorm fees, books, student loan repayments, and qualified living expenses. More information regarding your state's application process can be found online or through a caseworker.

The link to the PA Chafee grant is here. In PA, the same application is used for the Fostering Independence Through Education Tuition Waiver Program.

MAR/APR: REGULAR DECISION ACCEPTANCE RESULTS AND COMMITMENT

Once regular decision college applications are received, next steps include returning acceptance forms, completing any additional financial aid applications, and providing housing selections.

MAY/JUNE: SCHOLARSHIP ACCEPTANCE RESULTS

After committing to an institution, additional scholarships will help determine the final financial aid package.
